Labor and Climate: Coalitions for Good Jobs in a Green Economy

Our generation faces historic challenges. We need high quality, equitable, family-supporting jobs AND we need urgent action to address climate change. While we're often told these goals are in conflict with one another, unions in history and today have worked to build alliances for clean water and air, a sustainable future, and jobs with dignity. Join us for a workshop on the history, current challenges, and opportunities in today's economy to build coalitions for good jobs and a sustainable future.

Thursday, October 26 | 5:30-7:30PM
Machinists Hall
2000 Walker Street, Des Moines

Food provided by South Central Iowa Federation of Labor
Register by email to pmartinez.scifl@gmail.com

Workshop sponsored by the Hubbell Environmental Law Initiative, University of Iowa College of Law