

Combating Gender-Based Harassment: Bringing Justice and Equity to Our Workplaces

Workshop designed for local union leaders, union stewards, and rank and file workers interested in sharing experiences and developing strategies for combating gender-based harassment.

- What is harassment, and how does it affect us, our co-workers, and our unions?
- Why are unions so important in the “#MeToo” moment?
- What roles can individuals and local unions play in combating harassment and creating safe, healthy, equitable workplaces?
